Declaration on the European Charter for Researchers and the Code of Conduct for the Recruitment of Researchers

The European Charter for Researchers and the Code of Conduct for their Recruitment, adopted by the Commission in March 2005, aim to support the mobility of researchers within the EU by ensuring they have the same rights and obligations wherever they work. The Code and Charter aim to combat the current fragmentation of research careers and create a dynamic and open European labour market for researchers, from both within and outside the EU.

In endorsing the principles, the University of Antwerp-Belgium hereby adopts the guidelines of the European Charter for Researchers and Code of Conduct for the Recruitment of Researchers thus enlarging and improving the already existing universities' regulations.
